I would like to extend a pleasant welcome to everyone that takes part in our Parks and Recreation Department activities.

As part of a distinctive and treasured cultural history, our community continues to celebrate our diversity and special offerings for residents and visitors. Among the exceptional offerings are the programs and facilities provided by our Parks and Recreation Department. The City of Santa Fe has a little something for all of us; from swimming, ice-skating, yoga, dancing, art, fitness, golf, summer camps, to local softball, soccer and rugby leagues.

I encourage you to look through this 2004 Summer Activity Guide and see what we have to offer you. Enjoy the summer at our parks and facilities with family and friends. Be safe and pray for moisture to help keep our parks vibrant for all to enjoy now and in the future.

My family and I look forward to seeing you at our Parks and Recreation Department programs and facilities this summer.

iCon cariño!

TRAILS In Santa Fe

Santa Fe has a variety of trails and public paths that encourage outdoor recreation and promote fitness. Some trails link parks and other destinations, creating greenways through densely developed areas. Others, such as the Rail Trail, extend well into Santa Fe County through less developed landscape. So, put on your walking, running, or hiking shoes - or get out your bike or skates - and take advantage of the trails that Santa Fe has to offer.

Activities

June 25, 2004

Santa Fe Beautiful Awards Night – Santa Fe Beautiful recognizes all of our hardworking volunteers and businesses that go out of their way to support our programs.

All activities during this 3-day event are open to the public. This event is sponsored by the City of Santa Fe, Parks & Recreation Department and Santa Fe Beautiful in conjunction with America Recycles Day activities that take place in November across the state and country.

SUGGESTED WOODY PLANTS

We have developed a working list as a living document of plant materials that can reasonably be expected to grow acceptably in the Santa Fe area, given proper siting and care. Some of these plants have limited availability at this time, though nursery supplies are increasing. There are others that might grow equally well here, but they have been excluded at this time due to their even more limited availability.

Knowing that our current drought situation may be with us for awhile, this list will be reviewed and modified periodically as potentially useful plants and information are introduced or become more readily available.

The Suggested Woody Plant list is not intended to be used to limit plant selection, but to serve as a guide for those who want to know more about reasonable choices for this area. This list is available from three sources: The Parks and Recreation Department at 1142 Siler Road, the Santa Fe County Cooperative Extension Service at 3229 Rodeo Road or on line at santafetrees.com and santafenm.gov.

For those who wish to experiment with plants not on the list, we urge you to find out all you can about the plants' expected hardiness, resistance to disease and insects, cultural requirements and potential problems.

ABOUT THE PINE BARK BEETLE REDUCING THE IMPACT

Recognizing that the Bark Beetle Outbreak is having a significant Impact on the greater Santa Fe area, the City Council has directed staff to develop a plan of action for dealing with this problem. A major component of this plan is to provide information to citizens in an effort to help reduce the impact of this infestation. According to forest health experts, the best way to avoid having trees attacked by bark beetle is to take preventative measures.

WHAT CAN YOU DO?

1. Thinning- Reduce the competition for water, sunlight and nutrients among the trees. In most areas of town the Piñon tree stands are unnaturally dense, due to previous periods of above normal precipitation resulting in overcrowded growth. The State Forestry division and Cooperative Extension service can help you with specific advice regarding tree thinning. Many of the local Horticultural services can also provide valuable information.
2. Watering- Watering trees at the drip line to a depth of two feet will promote tree health, pay particular attention to the months of May, June and October if we have had light snow fall or a lack of rain during the growing season. However, depending on the weather patterns watering may be needed at other times of the year.

PARKS & RECREATION

3. Remove Green Debris- The beetles are attracted to the wood and limbs of fresh cut trees. This material could be chipped or stacked on site. We recommend covering the piles completely, with clear 6 mil plastic or removing the wood to the Caja del Rio landfill. The fee has been greatly reduced for hauling in clean green waste where it will be processed and completely recycled for us in regional erosion control projects.
4. Dead Trees- When the tree is dried out and the bark is beginning to fall off it will not attract bark beetles. Leaving as many of these trees as you can provides habitat for wildlife and will return carbon and nutrients to the soil as they decompose. The logs and branches can also be utilized when constructing erosion control features.

SPRAYING

The City of Santa Fe does not promote spraying for bark beetle control. The bark beetle populations have increased to epidemic proportions because of extreme drought and unnaturally dense Pinon Pine stands.

Spraying the trees will provide a measure of control for the beetle but you will still be left with a dense, weak stand of Pinon pine susceptible to attack by other organisms feeding on drought stressed trees. Remember, when you spray, you will be killing the many beneficial insects along with the beetle. Should you make the decision to spray we recommend the following “good neighbor guidelines”:

- Research as much information as possible regarding the toxicology and use of the pesticide.
- The local nurseries can provide helpful information when reading the label. Make sure the label specifically registers the use of the chemical for bark beetle control. The label is the law and you are required to follow all directions accordingly. The internet provides extensive information not provided for on the label, citing effects of its use on the environment and toxicology studies.
- The person most at risk from pesticide applications is the applicator. Consider contracting with a professional, licensed applicator. Discuss the spray treatment thoroughly and ask for references.
- Consider spraying as few trees as possible, those great old “Grandfather” trees that would have the greatest impact on your property if they were to die.
- Visit with your neighbors before you spray. Give them the opportunity to close up their house, provide for their pets and express their concerns. You have provided them the opportunity to express their concerns and can take steps to minimize the effects of the spray application on the adjoining property.
